

PROPERTIES OF DIFFERENT SECTIONS

All the sections shown here have an equal cross-sectional area. When subjected to a bending test, the 'I' beam section at the top deflects least and the round section at the bottom deflects most. When subjected to a torsion test the thin tube deflects least and the 'I' section most.

